MEN'S EDITION

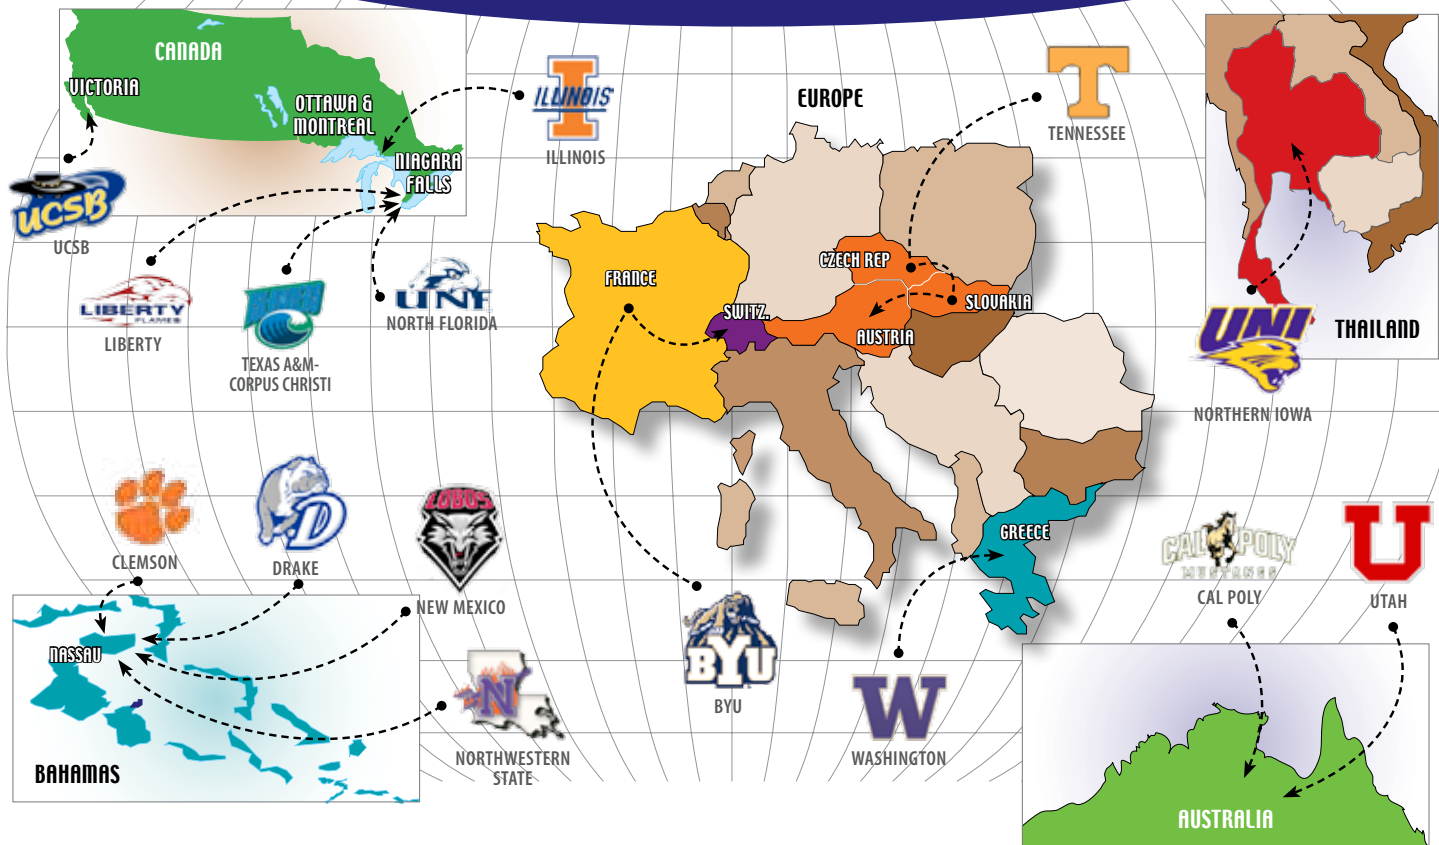

2008 SUMMER & LABOR DAY TOURS STILL AVAILABLE

Need extra game experience? Want to build team chemistry? Foreign tours can assist with these team goals and more. There are two types of foreign tours that teams can take, longer summer trips and shorter Labor Day trips. Summer break tours typically run 9-10 days with about 5 games, allowing greater opportunity for team bonding and game experience. Tours during the Labor Day break (if your school is in session) offer different advantages, including bringing your freshmen. Labor Day tours are a shorter, more intense alternative to the summer tours, lasting in general 3-4 days with 2-3 games played. Regardless of which option you choose, both afford ten days of practice before the tour. Coaches get a head start on teaching skills and concepts that other schools won't cover until October.

TOUR DESTINATION OPTIONS INCLUDE: Europe, Australia, Africa, Canada, Mexico and the Bahamas

TOUR TEAMS:
Summer - 2008: Brown, Columbia, Loyola Marymount, Monmouth, Nicholls State, Purdue, UC Davis, UNLV
Fall - 2008: Mercer, Norfolk State, Pacific, Winston-Salem State

TENNESSEE TOURS CENTRAL EUROPE

The Tennessee Volunteers got an early start on their stellar season by playing five games this August against competition in Prague, Bratislava and Vienna. But according to Bruce Pearl, whose team finished 4-1 on the tour, the trip ended up being about much more than just basketball.

“I still think the biggest gain is everything off the floor, the educational parts of this trip,” Pearl said. “I talked about it before we left and I think a lot of people thought that I was just saying that. On the days of games we toured castles, visited hospitals and interacted with the people here. I really feel like that has been the greatest part of the whole trip.”

Tennessee is enjoying the best season in Volunteer men’s basketball history, including their ascension to the top of The Associated Press college basketball poll for the first time in the program’s 99-year history.
